

Yellow Brick Road Activity

Materials

- Large yellow sheet of paper
- Coloured pens and pencils

How to play

- In small groups students are required to tell a story using the yellow brick road.
- By taking turns students will create an imaginative story.
- The first player will start with the orientation.
- Each player is required to verbally tell each part of the story and identify the different feature of the text type they are telling.

- Students are also required to draw items that relate to each part of the story on either side of the yellow brick road when it is their turn.
